

Welcome to the Connecticut Judicial Branch Law Library

In order to provide you with the best possible service, we ask all law library public patrons to please follow the rules of conduct listed below:

Law library public patrons shall:

- observe all library policies, procedures and rules.
- be engaged in legal research and/or court-related activities.
- be respectful and conduct themselves at all times in a manner which does not hinder others from being able to carry on their work, including refraining from asking other patrons for legal advice or assistance.
- dress appropriately. Shoes or other footwear and shirts must be worn while in the library.
- maintain quiet.
- turn off cell phones or set to “vibrate”. All cell phone conversations must be conducted outside the library.
- leave the library promptly at closing or when asked to leave during emergency situations and drills.
- not damage or deface library property or misuse library equipment.
- not create a nuisance to others, e.g., by offensive odors or obstructing walkways or aisles.
- not eat or drink, doze or sleep in the library.
- not exhibit disruptive behavior or use foul or abusive language.

Failure to comply with library rules and policies, the directives of library staff, or to cooperate with the staff in the enforcement of these rules may result in the curtailment, suspension or loss of library privileges.

Thank you for following the rules of the law library.
